

NEW IN BROKERR

Work with your agencies inside Brokerr

Working with external recruitment agencies used to mean CVs buried in email and updates chased over WhatsApp. Now you invite your agencies into a role and they submit candidates straight into a dedicated pipeline. You both talk on the candidate, requests keep everything moving, and interviews book straight into your calendar. One place, no friction, and it is free.

Invite an agency to a role

Share any job with your agencies. They get a secure portal in your branding, with no account and no password to manage.

Candidates straight into your pipeline

Agencies submit directly, CVs are read into a clean profile on arrival, and duplicate submissions are blocked first come first serve.

One shared conversation

Notes on each candidate are visible to both sides, with @ mentions to tag your team or the agency for feedback and requests.

Interviews into your calendar

Propose times, let the agency pick one, and the interview books straight into the interviewer's calendar with a notification.

HOW IT WORKS

1

Open a job and click Agencies to invite your agency.

2

Switch to the Agency Pipeline to review the candidates they submit.

3

Send an interview request and the agency books a time into your calendar.
